Quarterly Update

HC Stirling House Dynamic Fund

31st December 2019

Investment Objective

To achieve long term capital growth.

Investment Policy

The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by gaining exposure predominantly to global equities with some exposure to money market instruments, fixed interest securities, cash and near cash. The investment manager may allocate the Fund towards particular investment themes, geographic areas and sectors. The Fund may be expected to have a relatively high degree of volatility.

It is anticipated that the Fund may be almost wholly invested through collective investment schemes. As the Fund grows in size, it is intended that the Fund will invest less in collective investment schemes and instead invest to a greater extent or wholly directly (where permitted) into the asset classes set out above.

The Fund may also invest directly or indirectly in other transferable securities and collective investment schemes which may have exposure to alternatives such as commodities, loans, hedge funds, private equity and property.

Performance Commentary

Equity markets posted record highs at the close of the year buoyed by a 'phase one' deal between the US and China. Elsewhere, the UK and the EU agreed a new Brexit deal and sterling rose on the back of a significant Tory majority in December's election. All told, geopolitical uncertainty seems to be diminishing and macroeconomic data points to a stabilisation of global growth.

Umicore was among the largest contributors to returns in the fourth quarter following the announcement of a multi-year supply agreement with battery makers, LG Chem and Samsung SDI, for their material to be used in electric vehicles (EV). These agreements are another indication of the superior quality that Umicore offers, allowing it to benefit from increased EV penetration globally.

In contrast, CME, the world's largest exchange in hedging and derivative products, detracted from performance during a period of unusually low market volatility, although there was not much to dislike in their third quarter earnings report.

Within transactions, the fund's remaining shares in 3M were sold ahead of disappointing third quarter results and a challenging outlook statement. The proceeds were reinvested in Accenture plc, one of the leading organizations providing IT consulting and outsourcing services.

Fund Outlook from Sarasin & Partners

US-China tensions seem to be diminishing following the Phase 1 trade deal, if this de-escalation of the trade war continues then it is supportive for market sentiment. Trump will have a plan to boost the US economy ahead of presidential elections in 2020 and China has the wherewithal for further policy stimulus to support its economy.

In Europe and the UK, consumer spending remains healthy and continues to fuel growth, supported by rising real wages and a tight labour market. Manufacturing, having been a drag on global growth seems to be picking up. Finally, central banks have shown that they are prepared to support the global economy against the backdrop of stubborn inflation and mediocre macroeconomic data and, although a pause on further stimulus looks likely, a return to tightening policy seems improbable.

Moreover, an appreciation of the limited scope for monetary stimulus has caused governments to re-examine the fiscal toolkit as a means for stimulating growth in 2020.

We continue to appreciate and monitor the risks to global growth. Geopolitical uncertainty is diminishing, and, whilst we wait to add to our favourite, long-term thematic equity ideas at more attractive valuation levels, a stabilizing economic backdrop is supportive for asset prices. Equities remain our preferred asset class, particularly in the context of bond yields at near all-time low.
